

MindManager®

Microsoft Office Productivity Hub

Thanks to applications like those in Microsoft® Office® – the world's pre-eminent business toolset – worker productivity is at record highs. Nevertheless, with workers spending a third of their time retrieving data and information that lives in siloed applications, productivity gains are in danger of running aground. To keep productivity humming, businesses need an easy-to-use, easy-to-implement, easy-to-adopt tool that can bring all of your relevant business information together in one place and display it with startling clarity.

Enter MindManager®, which integrates smoothly with all elements of the Microsoft Office suite. Through its powerful, intuitive visual maps, MindManager captures, connects, displays, and shares ideas and information from Microsoft Office's diverse applications, as well as from the minds of your team. With MindManager, you'll spend less time getting more done, while gaining a "big picture" view that's indispensable for effective strategy and execution.

PRODUCTIVITY BENEFITS

Mindjet MindManager integrates with Microsoft Excel®, Microsoft Outlook®, Microsoft PowerPoint®, Microsoft Project®, Microsoft Visio®, and Microsoft Word®. Among the key productivity benefits:

- More quickly and more intuitively brainstorm documents, presentations, project scope, and workflow processes in interactive visual maps
- With a click of the mouse, immediately and efficiently move your best ideas to Microsoft Office applications:
 - Create presentation content and structure, and then review and modify slides before exporting an entire deck to Microsoft PowerPoint
 - Develop a work breakdown structure, then export it to Microsoft Project for detailed project management
 - Lay out workflow processes and export them to create Microsoft Visio organizational charts and flowchart drawings
 - Quickly unleash and organize narrative ideas, and then turn your maps into compelling Microsoft Word documents
- Capture, store, and display all key project information in one place:
 - Display Excel spreadsheets and charts within maps, using only the data ranges you need
 - Import data from Microsoft Project to create highly visual dashboards and status reports
 - Combine imported Microsoft Word documents with other content and reuse it enterprise-wide
- Update key map information automatically through synchronization with Excel, Project, and Outlook
- Share information more efficiently and collaborate more effectively
 - Create, import, and export Microsoft Outlook items – and synchronize so you can leverage the latest Outlook information

By serving as the hub for Microsoft Office – and lending the power of intuitive maps to applications that are at the center of nearly all business desktops – MindManager is the needed adjustment that can keep the productivity engine running smoothly for years to come.
